Linda Lindquist

Common Computer Malware Scams

Linda has been in the computer software field since 1969 as a software engineer and process improvement specialist for three Fortune 500 corporations. Since “retiring” she now helps “vintage adults” with their computers, phones, and tablets: Solving their problems, installing new computers and wi-fi printers, providing basic windows self-paced training, removing malware, and securing computers.

Linda writes two blogs a week, accessible at

and is the author of Faud Fighters 101 available on Amazon.

Today, there are many common computer malware scams that we are often confronted with on a daily basis. Judy will show us what they look like, how to identify them, what to do if they show up on your computer, and more importantly, how to prevent them.

PLEASE WELCOME LINDA LINDQUIST !!!
